Prologue

Captured in the quiet hours of late October.
Neither storm nor calm—only a low hum in the clouds.
A beam found the vapor and the vapor answered.
Between them, a threshold opened: ordinary light learning a new step.
We watched. The sky listened.

A threshold opens.

Profiles in vapor.

A conversation forms.

Whispered contours.

The veil moves.

Light remembers itself.

Balanced Pair — Night Watchers Sequence

The watcher leans in.

Night holds its breath.

Faces recede into sky.

Afterglow.
